

CLOWN COLLEGE

A clown's face is more than a collection of features. It's his most versatile and valuable prop and he has to learn how to use it. Clowns aren't born with those preposterous sad, saucer eyes, ballooning noses and ear-to-ear grins. The clown's art includes the use of larger-than-life facial contortions which he (or she) emphasizes still further by the skillful use of makeup.

Makeup is one of the techniques which the clown has to learn and practice. There are classical styles of clown face which are part of the circus tradition, but there is endless scope for variation and invention. It's a question of choice and temperament.

The young clowns on this page are students at the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey clown college in Venice, Fla. In addition to makeup, they study Yoga, calisthenics, pantomime and those antique comedy routines which still never fail to arouse roars of laughter.

Mrs. Gibbs Is Content With Home Life

By DALA MCKINSEY

Associated Press Writer
NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) —Mrs. Lester Gibbs, wife of the Republican gubernatorial candidate, is content to run their home and not become involved in politics.

"My family comes first and I think he can handle that out there," she said.

The mother of five children, Mrs. Gibbs, who is 46, says things at home keep her busy and that she has not become actively involved in her husband's campaign. She said that she rarely accompanies him to rallies or speaking engagements.

Three children, ranging in age from 6 to 18, remain at home and Mrs. Gibbs' mother lives with the Gibbs.

Gibbs has repeatedly said he is running a "poor man's campaign" and much of the campaign work centers around the Gibbs home.

The money for the Gibbs campaign has been almost nonexistent, according to Mrs. Gibbs, except for a few small donations from personal friends.

The Gibbs children help their father during free hours, but Gibbs is doing most of the work himself.

The schedule at the Gibbs' home has faded to almost no schedule at all, Mrs. Gibbs says.

But life for Mrs. Gibbs was just as unpredictable during the first years of her marriage as it is now.

She met her husband in 1944 while he and his band, "Les Gibbs and the Rhythm Rockers" were playing at England, Ark. She said they dated for about six months before getting married.

For three years, the Gibbs traveled in a station wagon to various engagements in California, Nevada, Arizona and Texas. She said they would always come back to Arkansas to rest, before starting out on another tour.

Mrs. Gibbs' trips were curtailed with the birth of their first child and from then on she stayed at home or traveled sporadically.

She said her favorite song in those days was "Stardust," which Gibbs sang.

"It has been so long since I had time to relax ... I am going to some nice, cool lake and fish," she said.

Before an altar of greenery, stock, gladioli, and candles, Miss Cynthia Ann Trout and Bruce Douglas Palmer were united in marriage. The ceremony took place August 14 at the First Baptist Church with Rev. Gerald Trussell officiating. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arlet R. Trout of 513 Peach Street. Mr. Palmer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Palmer of Idabel, Oklahoma.

Nuptial music was provided by Miss Becky Huff, organist, Ken Trout, brother of the bride, pianist, and Miss Gayle Williams, soloist. Miss Williams sang "Somewhere" before the service and the "Wedding Prayer" as the couple knelt.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore an empire styled gown of taupe de soie. The scooped neck was covered with a bib of scalloped alencon lace. The sleeves were also of alencon lace and accented on the cuffs with tiny pearl buttons. The Mantilla veil was cathedral length of illusion accented around the face by matching alencon lace. She carried a bouquet of fleur d'amour centered with a yellow orchid.

Mrs. Robert Trout, sister-in-law of the bride, served as matron of honor wearing a similar styled dress of aqua peau de soie and silk organza. She carried a bouquet of yellow carnations.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Trout wore a pink A-line dress accented at the neck with pearl trim, and platinum accessories. She wore a pink orchid at her shoulder. Mrs. Palmer wore a beige flared dress with matching accessories. Her corsage was a green orchid.

Robert Trout lighted the candles for his sister's wedding. Kenneth E. Palmer, cousin of the groom, served as best man. Ushers were Jim Galloway of Magnolia, Bob Lewis of Texarkana, and Dennis Parker of Idabel, Oklahoma.

A reception was held at the Fellowship Hall of the church. Serving were Misses Mary Nell Williams and Mary Beth Levins of Hope, Miss Kathy McNeil of Little Rock, and Miss Linda McCain of Camden. Miss Marcia Dickey presided at the brides book. Misses Michele Trout of St. Petersburg, Fla. and Michelle Hansen of Cocoa, Fla., neices of the bride and groom, passed out rice bags in matching aqua gowns.

For her traveling attire, the bride chose a yellow linen dress and pinned the orchid from her bouquet at her shoulder.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will make their home in Magnolia where Mr. Palmer is a senior at Southern State College.

The expert doesn't hold any better cards than the average player. He simply gets more value out of his.

Today's hand was played almost 40 years ago by the late George Reith, one of the old guard of auction players who carried enough skill over to contract so that he won the first contract tournament ever played. He also started his young partner, Oswald Jacoby, on a long bridge career.

This hand was played in a rubber bridge game at the old Knickerbocker Whist Club, which George was president of for many years.

His bidding was not scientific by modern standards and he was rather disappointed at what he found in dummy. It looked as if he would have to lose a trump and a club.

Then George found a way to make one loser disappear against reasonable suit breaks. Instead of discarding a club on the ace of spades, George played low from dummy and ruffed in his own hand. Then he cashed the ace of hearts and ace and king of diamonds.

Now he entered dummy with the king of trumps and played that ace of spades. Once more, he didn't discard a losing club. He tossed away his queen of diamonds.

Then he played the jack of diamonds and threw away a club. Since no one ruffed that, he continued with his 10 of diamonds to discard his last club loser and conceded a trick to the remaining trump.

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED FOR IT, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

QUESTIONS, QUESTIONS, QUESTIONS

Dear Helen:
The killing age is 18, the voting age will be 18 (unless they challenge it) so how come a guy must wait, in most states, until he's 21 before he can get married without parents' consent? And how come he can't sign a legal contract unless some adult co-signs? Or buy booze, or be in a bar or gambling club?

I think they should make things simple by voting the age of majority in at 19 instead of 21—and that means you're a total adult at 19, not just a half-one. I say 19 because by that time most young people are out of high school and either in college or on their own. Age 18 seems too young, but if you aren't mature by 19, you aren't going to be much better by 21. —PERRY

Dear Perry:

Would you settle for age 20? There's already an organization dedicated to lowering the age of majority by one year. It urges those in favor to write their Congressmen. Okay? —H.

Dear Helen:

A reader asked what young people can do to help make our country something to be proud of again.

Well, there's an election coming up. If even 10 percent of the students would get interested in politics and go out and work

Mark Panther, assistant principal, defined the administration policy on PDA.
"Holding hands isn't bad," he said, "but when a guy has girl up against a locker and starts rubbing her, this is in poor judgment."
He said PDA is "degrading to the individuals involved and embarrassing to those in the vicinity who have to observe this."
Commenting on school policy, Panther said:

QUICK QUIZ

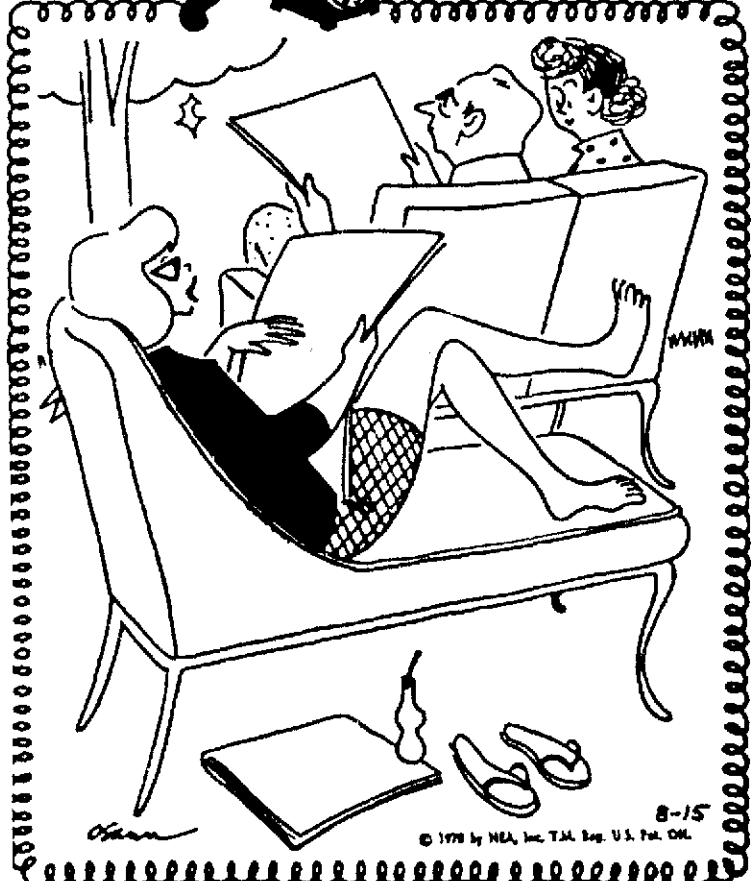

Q—How did the cocker spaniel get its name?
A—The breed is named for its ability to hunt birds called woodcock. Few cockers are now used as hunting dogs.
Q—Do U.S. senators have individual seats assigned to them?
A—Seats are assigned on request of senators in order of their seniority. Democrats occupy the west side of the chamber on the Vice-President's right. Republicans sit across the main aisle to his left.

Walker Nips San Diego for Pirates

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Steve Blass has thrown in with Luke Walker to get another pick-up game going for the Pittsburgh Pirates.
Blass, making his first start in a month, hurled six scoreless innings as Pittsburgh nipped San Diego 2-1 in Friday night's doubleheader opener to end a three-game losing string.
Then Walker, who has given the Pirates' troubled pitching staff a big lift since being called out of the bullpen last month, completed a sweep of the twighter by taming the Padres 10-1 with a six-hitter.

After Blass, who has been sidelined with a badly bruised right elbow, teamed up with reliever Orlando Pena on a four-hitter, Walker sent the National League's East Division leaders three games up on the runner-up New York Mets with his fifth consecutive victory.

The Mets divided a twin bill with Atlanta, winning the nightcap 4-2 after a 10-2 first-game loss, and dropped another length off the Pirates' pace. Elsewhere, St. Louis edged San Francisco 2-1 in 13 innings before bowing 5-4 to the Giants in 10; Philadelphia shaded Cincinnati 5-4; Los Angeles slugged the Chicago Cubs 13-9, and Montreal drubbed Houston 10-2.

In American League games, Oakland topped Baltimore 4-0; Boston stunned Minnesota 8-1; California defeated Detroit 7-3; the New York Yankees beat Kansas City 3-2 in 10 innings; Milwaukee downed Cleveland 4-3 in 11 and Washington subdued the Chicago White Sox 6-5 in 10.

Blass, out of action since July 12, when he was struck on the elbow by a drive off the bat of St. Louis' Joe Torre, checked the Padres on two hits but was locked in a scoreless deadlock with left-hander Dave Roberts when he was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the sixth.

Roberto Clemente's 13th homer, Jerry May's triple, a walk and a run-producing double play grounder gave the Pirates a 2-0 lead in the seventh. Pena shrugged off a San Diego run in the eighth to gain his second victory without a loss.

"I had no idea what was going to happen out there," said Blass, who was yanked after throwing 63 pitches ... seven under the limit prescribed for him by Manager Danny Murtaugh. "But now I can walk into the clubhouse and look everybody in the eye again. I wanted not only to pick them up, but to pick myself up, too."

In the nightcap, Walker struck out nine on the way to his 10th victory in 13 decisions and doubled his season hit total with a pair of singles good for three RBI. His first hit and Willie Stargell's 23rd homer keyed an eight-run explosion in the fifth that put the game under wraps.
The Mets salvaged a split at Atlanta when Duffy Dyer hit a bases-empty homer and Wayne Garrett poled a three-run blast in the seventh inning, erasing a 2-0 deficit.

Hal King's first grand slam homer in the majors and a three-run wallop by Orlando Cepeda backed the four-hit pitching of Ron Reed as the Braves took the opener. King's bases-loaded shot was the 40th hit in the National League this year, tying the all-time record set last season.

Julian Javier scored on a 13th-inning throwing error by catcher Dick Dietz to carry the Cardinals past the Giants in their opener, but San Francisco bounced back to win the second game on Bobby Bonds' run-scoring double in the 10th.

Pitcher Rick Wise doubled in the fifth to touch off a tie-breaking three-run rally and the Phils hung on to upend Cincinnati, which lost All-Star third baseman Tony Perez for several weeks when he was spiked on the head by base-runner John ... in the fourth.

Dobson Hurls 8th Straight Victory

By TOM SALADINO
Associated Press Sports Writer

Chuck Dobson didn't want to leave but when he heard it was the Mudcat coming to the rescue, the sizzling Oakland right-hander quietly sat down to watch and enjoy his eighth consecutive triumph.

Dobson is the pitching ring-leader of the A's, who have now won six of seven and made the Baltimore Orioles their latest victims Friday night with a 4-0 victory, pushing Oakland to within four games of slumping Minnesota in the West.

The 6-foot-4, 200-pound Dobson, now 15-10, after reeling off his eighth straight, blanked the Eastern leaders for 7 1-3 innings before the Orioles touched him for their fourth hit. A walk brought on Jim "Mudcat" Grant, who gained his 21st save of the year by shutting off the Orioles the rest of the way.

"I thought I should have stayed in," the 26-year-old Dobson said afterward. "You hate to come out but when you have a pitcher like Mudcat in the bullpen, you don't mind too much."

Dobson, however, hasn't needed much help lately. He ran his scoreless streak to 20 1-3 innings and has given up only one run in his last 35 innings. His last loss was on July 7th when he dropped a 4-2 decision to Minnesota.

"I've always been a streak pitcher," said Dobson, who was 15-13 last year with the A's. "But never like this. Usually I'd win three in a row. I'm amazed to win eight in a row."

Bert Campaneris and Rick Monday took care of the A's offense. Campaneris singled three times, scored twice and drove in a run while Monday cracked a sacrifice fly and stroked a solo homer.

Golf PMs

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Richard Crawford of Bella Vista, Ark., shot a 76 Friday to finish the second-round of the 52nd PGA golf Championship here with a 36-hole score of 150.

R. H. Sikes of Springdale had a 151 and Miller Barber of Texarkana had a 154.

Dave Stockton led the field with a 140 total.

In other American League action, Boston routed Minnesota 8-1, sending the Twins to their seventh loss in succession; California belted Detroit 7-3; the New York Yankees edged Kansas City 3-2 in 10 innings; Washington nipped Chicago 6-5 in 10, and Milwaukee topped Cleveland 4-3 in 11 innings.

In the National League, Los Angeles bombed Chicago 13-9; Pittsburgh swept San Diego 2-1 and 10-1; Atlanta and the New York Mets split a doubleheader, the Braves winning 10-2, before the Mets took the nightcap, 4-2; St. Louis and San Francisco divided a pair of extra-inning games, the Cards winning the opener 2-1 in 13 and the Giants the second 5-4; Philadelphia edged Cincinnati 5-4, and Montreal pounded Houston 10-2.

Ray Culp spun a clutch nine-hitter, for his 13th victory as the Red Sox ripped the Twins.

Rico Petrocelli and Carl Yastrzemski clouted homers for Boston. It was No. 19 for Petrocelli and Yas' 32nd. Yastrzemski drove in three runs, walking three times and adding a single. Brant Alyea homered for Minnesota's run.

Clyde Wright ripped a three-run homer and went six innings to gain his 16th triumph as the Angels moved to within 4½ games of Minnesota. Tom Reynolds added a two-run blast for California. Both homers were off the Tigers' Mickey Lolich, 10-14.

The Yankees moved to within 8½ games of the Orioles as Jake Gibbs slammed a leadoff homer in the 10th inning. Bobby Murcer also homered for the Yankees.

Del Unser's run-scoring single in the 10th carried the Senators to their fourth straight triumph. The game was delayed 61 minutes in the second inning by rain with the White Sox leading, 2-0.

Eddie Leon bobbled Mike Hegan's 11th-inning grounder, enabling Max Alvis to score the winning Brewer run from third base off the Indians' right-hander Dean Chance.

SHAVING STROKES

by Frank Beard
The Hated Shank

We almost made it through the year without mentioning that dreaded nemesis, the shank. That's the horrible-looking shot that squirts off at a 90-degree angle and makes the strongest man break out in a blush.

More common is the half-shank, which sees the ball—on any kind of iron shot—varoom toward a playing partner or a tree. I've done it myself recently, and it's no fun. Out on the tour, nobody ever mentions shanking. It's that awful.

But you have to understand a shank to kill one, so let's discuss it. Ironically, it's the closest thing to a perfect shot there is. The closer to the shaft you hit a shot, the more solid it will be. Up to a point.

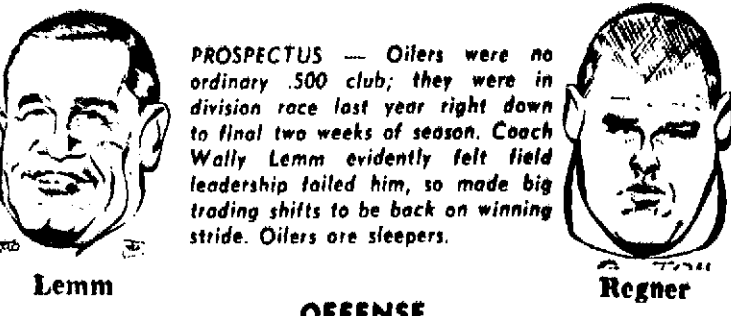

The shank is caused by bad balance. Usually you will be up on your toes at impact, trying to kill the ball, your rhythm and tempo destroyed because you're swinging too hard.

To correct this condition, concentrate on keeping your weight back, and on not over-swinging. Don't get up on your toes and don't let your head and upper body slide past the ball as you make contact. Then you'll stop shanking.
And now let's not mention it again for another year.

Pro Charts

BY MURRAY OLDERMAN

American Conference: HOUSTON

PROSPECTUS — Oilers were no ordinary .500 club; they were in division race last year right down to final two weeks of season. Coach Wally Lemm evidently felt field leadership failed him, so made big trading shifts to be back on winning stride. Oilers are sleepers.

RECEIVING—Charley Johnson's no stranger to the boss. Dr. Johnson (Bona fide title) worked four years for Lemm at St. Louis, so their offensive concepts mesh. Charley's supposed to be poor poor-weather fliker, but that problem becomes academic in Astrodome. Return to native Texas should stimulate the blond vet. Rating—B+

RUNNING—At least there'll be a feeling of stability without Woody Campbell having to run off to the Army periodically. He's 100 per center now (Oiler, that is) lining up in backfield with stump-legged Hoyle Granger. They're both pliedrivers and have help of Roy Hopkins. Have sleeper speedboy in rookie Bill Dusenberry. Rating—B

LINE—Real solid and veteran unit from tackle (Glenn Ray Hines) to tackle (Walt Suggs). In between, guard Tom Regner is a standout who merits all-star attention. And just for added strength they've drafted Doug Wilkerson (No. 1 choice) and Ron Saul. Rating—A-

DEFENSE
LINE—Outstanding at the ends, with steady Pat Holmes and exciting Elvin Bethea, the Big E who gets to quarterbacks. But the dropoff in quality is acute inside. Carl Stith, Tom Domes finally had to take over last year after vets George Rice (bad knee), Willie Parker, bloated stomach. Answer may have to come from rookie like Leo Brooks of Texas. Rating—B-

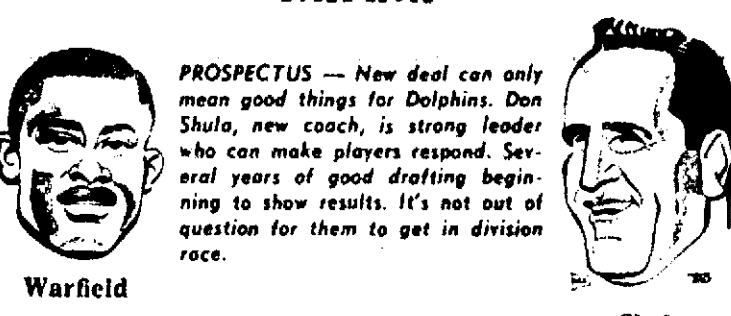

LINEBACKING—All-pro kudos for George Webster last year little misleading. Ranga left linebacker got lot of them on reputation. But since he's undoubtedly the best talent in football for the job, a fair season for him ('69) would be great for someone else. On right side, Olen Underwood's in strong danger of being supplanted by robust Ron Pritchard. Garland Boyette is strong man in middle. Couple of aggressive underlings on top in Loyd Wainwright, rookie Jess Lewis, both tackle stars in college. Rating—B+

SECONDARY—Fact that they could afford to trade all-league Miller Farr must mean Oilers are secure with Leroy Mitchell, Zeke Moore on corners. Can also use ex-Card Bob Atkins there. Strong safety Ken Houston's one of best in business. Johnny Peacock was a surprise rookie starter last year and should improve. Rating—B

KICKING—Soccer-style Roy Garcia kicks air out of ball from placement and on kickoffs, but there's an all-points search to find an adequate punter. Rating—B-

PREDICTION
Third in Central Division.

American Conference: MIAMI

PROSPECTUS — New deal can only mean good things for Dolphins. Don Shula, new coach, is strong leader who can make players respond. Several years of good drafting beginning to show results. It's not out of question for them to get in division race.

RECEIVING—Tremendous coup in landing Paul Warfield from Cleveland for draft choice. The racehorse receiver has great moves, great hands, great speed—and affinity for the end zone. Almost as good was acquisition of Marv Fleming from Green Bay to play tight end. Team them with either Howard Twilley or Karl Noonan as the other wide receiver. All-American Jim Mandich is tight end backup. Rating—B+

RUNNING—On first glance (at films) Shula liked what he saw—in Larry Csonka, Jim Kiick. They feature size, power. Mercury Morris should be good for spot duty. Stan Mitchell also helps. The key is full season from Csonka, who was bothered periodically by head injury. Rating—B

LINE—No telling what the final setup will be. There are some acceptable veterans around—center Tom Goode, Maxie Williams and Norm Evans. Picked up a couple of retradees in Bonkie Bollin, Lance Olsen. Even shifted high-priced Frank Emanuel to offensive center. And Doug Cruzan should develop. Hope is that Griese won't have to run for his life. Rating—C+

DEFENSE
LINE—Another case of a lot of bodies and only one outstanding specimen—Bill Stanfill at left end. Dave Campbell, a rookie, could work in if he's not used as linebacker. Jim Urbanek, last year, has impressive physique and no track record. Manny Fernandez showed promise last year. Rating—B-

LINEBACKING—Hub of entire defense is irrepressible Nick Buoniconti, who revived all-pro form after switch from Boston to Miami. Randall Edmunds is fine sidekick on one corner. Ed Weisacosky will round out trio until someone else comes along. Rating—B

SECONDARY—Obvious that Shula's going to do some juggling here also because second and third draftees were Tim Foley (Purdue), Curtis Johnson (Toledo). Time's running out on vets such as Jim Warren, Dick Anderson, after good rookie year, tailspinned in '69. Rating—C

KICKING—Larry Seiple, who doubles as tight end, handles the punting. Karl Krenner, soccer stylist, boots field goals. Both average. Rating—B

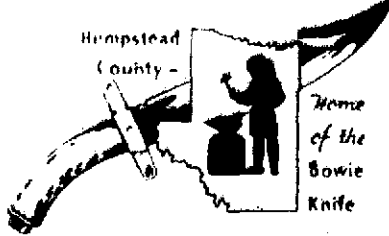

PREDICTION
Third in Eastern Division—and that's only predicated on Shula's strength as an organizer.

Curb On College Gifts

A recent caution issued by the Internal Revenue Service is a depressing backlash of strife on the nation's university campuses. The IRS has distributed a set of cautionary guidelines that include warnings to individual contributors to colleges and universities.

A gift may be denied federal or state tax deductibility if the IRS rules are not heeded. Their trust is to punish a donor if the college to which he contributes carries on propaganda intended to influence national legislation. In addition, a tax-exempt institution is prohibited from participating in any "political campaign on behalf of any candidate for public office."

This evident threat to freedom of expression seems sure to be tested in the courts. It cannot be allowed to stand without challenge. One deplorable aspect of the matter is that under these rules a donor would have to anticipate a college's official behavior before making a gift, or alternatively circumscribe his gift with conditions that no institution could predict, demand or control. This is a matter that should be threshed out legally as soon as possible. — West Point (Miss.) Daily Times Leader

President Warned He'd Be Blamed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon was warned months ago he would be blamed for a proposal to liberalize the nation's obscenity laws if he didn't fire the Commission on Pornography staff and most of its members, a packet of letters has disclosed.

The letters from Charles H. Keating Jr., Nixon's lone commission appointee, were released Thursday by Rep. Robert N. C. Nix, D-Pa., after the White House disclaimed the commission and called it former President Lyndon B. Johnson's. "Inasmuch as it is a presidential commission," said one of Keating's letters, "I am concerned not only that the pornographers will have taken a giant step toward winning the war but that your administration will receive the blame."

Keating, a Cincinnati attorney and founder of the Citizens for Decent Literature, Inc., urged Nixon 11 months ago to replace all but six of the 18 commission members. He said the new Nixon commission should then "promptly install a new staff."

Last month, Keating told Nixon "the situation is critical" and that he had seen draft reports confirming the commission was headed for a recommendation to repeal all U.S. laws against pornography for adults.

The commission's draft report also recommends enactment of laws to protect children against exposure to pornography and bans its use in public displays or unsolicited mail advertisements.

The White House announced Tuesday the president would oppose repeal of pornography laws for adults. Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler stressed: "This is not Nixon's commission. It was formed under a previous administration."

Keating's letters were turned over to Nix, chairman of a House subcommittee that blasted the draft report at a hearing Tuesday, by Keating's Citizens for Decent Literature.

"I do not think it is reasonable," Nixon said in releasing the letters, "for the White House to wash its hands completely of the obscenity commission by merely blaming the whole mess on the previous administration."

Bridge Collapses Under Weight of Log Truck

The Sandy Bols d' Arc bridge on old Highway 67 some five miles east of Fulton collapsed Thursday noon under the weight of a log truck and crawler owned and driven by C.E. Hester Jr. of Fulton. It was a 20 foot drop to the water. The road was still blocked Friday.

Sheltie Is Small Dog

Virginia Andress and 8-month-old Prissy. The Sheltie has reached its full growth but stands only 14 inches high.

By Mary Anita Laseter
Star Feature Writer

We are all familiar with the small horse known as a Shetland pony. It may be surprising to many to know there is comparable creature in the dog world known as the Shetland Sheepdog or Sheltie.

And what's more, they are being bred and raised near Hope by Mr. and Mrs. Jim Andress, who live 4 1/2 miles south of 18th Street on the Spring Hill Road.

A few years ago when the Andresses' children were quite small, they became interested in getting a dog for them. A neighbor had a Collie whom they all loved, but he was so big. It was then that they saw an ad in the leading daily paper of a nearby city—the first time they had heard of a miniature collie. A short time later they purchased their first Sheltie.

It was 3 years ago that the Andress family began its complete breeding program of Shetland Sheepdogs. This animal is a miniature executive. He is bred to work, coming from a hardy, tough, weather-beaten race of dogs. What he lacks in height (he's only 13 to 16 inches tall) he makes up with a marvelous physique—a sturdy put together, compact body with wide, well-sprung ribs. His thick double coat affords protection from arctic cold and acts as an insulator against torrid heat. But with rugged strength and endurance, the Sheltie is a Collie in Miniature.

His love for the outdoors makes this a man's dog, and he has engrained in him devotion and loyalty. With children, the Sheltie is the most considerate and tender of companions.

Neither dog nor man will dare trespass when the Sheltie is about. He will judge a stranger and instantly ward off unwelcome intruders. Training comes easy to the Sheltie. In Obedience Classes he exhibits poise and responsiveness to commands. He has the ability to coordinate and work out in that trained mind of his the ways and means of doing things in a logical sequence.

Mr. and Mrs. Andress have had as many as 19 dogs at one time and never less than 4, one sire and three dams. "Capt. Jack" is their first sire and he is their biggest dog, standing 15 1/2 inches tall at the shoulder. He is a shaded sable with a dark overcoat. When he is bred with a golden sable and white female, the resulting pups are beautiful.

Why are Shetland ponies and dogs so small? It is believed, logically, that the animals stem from a breed developed on the Shetland Islands where there is an abundance of neither fodder nor flocks. The land is made up of rugged rocks, where only the most meager vegetation can survive, and is surrounded by the Sea, which brews frequent and severe storms. No wonder only the hardiest of men and beasts and the smallest could find subsistence or have sufficient foothold there.

At the age of 5 or 6 weeks the Sheltie is ready to be obtained as a pet or as a show dog. The Andresses are careful in their placement of their dogs, and they must feel they are placing the animals in a good home or they don't sell them. If you are out in their direction, don't go look at their Shelties unless you are prepared to lose your heart.

Kennedy Auto Is Scrapped

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's auto in which Mary Jo Kopechne drowned has been scrapped.

The senator's administrative assistant, David Burke, said Thursday a dealer was asked to junk the auto after Massachusetts state police requested that it be removed from their property because all legal proceedings have ended.

Henderson blamed the unemployment on President Nixon's 75 per cent cutback in federal construction projects as an anti-inflation measure.

He said about 60 to 70 per cent of the council's work is federally financed.

Federal authorities consider an unemployment rate not exceeding 3 per cent to be healthy.

Am. Legion, Opposition in Portland

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — The American Legion and thousands of young people who don't like its stand on the Vietnam war are coming to Portland this month and massive efforts are under way to keep them apart.

About 14,000 Legion delegates are expected, and officials anticipate an influx of 40,000 to 50,000 young people.

"They say they know the best for America," said a spokesman for a youth group calling itself the People's Army Jamboree. "We are going to tell them they are wrong."

Gov. Tom McCall has ordered 6,000 National Guard troops into the Portland area for a training exercise on Aug. 28, opening day of the convention. He said they might be held into the next week.

Portland area police and firemen's leaves have been canceled for the convention.

Michael P. McCusker, 28, Portland, a former Marine who says he speaks for the People's Army Jamboree, said the governor's order to the National Guard was itself a threat to the peace.

Peter Fornara, another jamboree leader, said, "It is not our intention to provoke violence."

Robert H. Hazen, head of the local committee arranging the convention, said jamboree representatives had asked for a place on the convention program.

"As far as I know, there is no space available," Hazen said Thursday.

Hazen was asked if delegates from distant points were aware of the potential for trouble. He said he thought not but they would be and "the national commander will tell each legionnaire to keep his cool."

Builder Blames Cutback for Work Slack

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Donald W. Henderson, the business manager of the Central Arkansas Building Trades Council, said the rate of unemployment among the council's affiliated unions is about 12 to 15 per cent.

Henderson blamed the unemployment on President Nixon's 75 per cent cutback in federal construction projects as an anti-inflation measure.

He said about 60 to 70 per cent of the council's work is federally financed.

Federal authorities consider an unemployment rate not exceeding 3 per cent to be healthy.

Kosygin-Nixon Meet Discussed

WASHINGTON (AP) — It is too early to say whether President Nixon might meet with Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin during 25th anniversary ceremonies at the United Nations this fall, the White House says.

The heads of all U.N. nations have been invited to the ceremonies, and both the United States and Soviet Union have reserved time during the opening debate of the General Assembly session.

However, presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Thursday, "It is premature to discuss the President's schedule for that time." And Washington informants say the Russians have given no sign who will represent them.

FAA Would Ban Sales of Weapons

By VERN HAUGLAND
AP Aviation Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Aviation Administration has asked airport operators to ban the sale of knives or imitation weapons at terminals to prevent their possible use by skyjackers.

Carl F. Maisch, FAA security chief, confirmed Thursday airport management have been asked to discourage vendors from making such articles readily available to shoppers at airports.

The request was contained in a letter to members of the Airport Operators Council International and the American Association of Airport Executives.

It asked airport operators to discourage the sale of items such as knives, daggers, imitation revolvers, and cigarette lighters shaped like hand grenades.

Airline crews normally can distinguish these from real weapons, the request said but they may not be able to do so if such an article is brandished about or pressed against the back of the head.

The request is the latest FAA action to deter airline hijackers.

An FAA task force earlier set up an anti-hijacking system credited with having circumvented some airline hijackings.

The system makes use of a hijacker behavioral profile, to identify potential troublemakers, and a weapons screening device.

The anti-hijacking system is used by four airlines—Eastern, Trans World, Pan American and Continental—and at New Orleans International airport by all nine airlines serving that terminal.

Even-Handed Policy, South Told

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, assuring Southern leaders of an even-handed policy on school desegregation, says he has no intention of waiting for trouble before enforcing the law.

After meeting in New Orleans Friday with federally sponsored citizens committees on desegregation from seven states, Nixon said:

"I believe that leadership in an instance like this requires some preventive action. We are trying to take some preventive action and we are getting magnificent cooperation from dedicated people in seven states involved."

The President was greeted warmly on a motorcade through downtown New Orleans. He offered no new policy in his statements about school desegregation, but it was considered significant the comments were made to an audience in the Deep South.

"I emphasize this is one people, and we are going to carry out the law that way, not in a punitive way, treating the South as basically a second-class part of the nation," Nixon told newsmen in relating details of the meeting with Southern leaders.

But, he added, his administration will exercise strong leadership on desegregation "because we believe in order and justice and believe in enforcing the law."

Resistance to integration, the President declared, will hurt most the next generation of Southerners. "They will pay the price, the price for failure of leadership," he declared.

Asks Reversal of Conspiracy Convictions

CHICAGO (AP) — A motion to reverse the conviction of five persons found guilty of crossing state lines to incite rioting the week of the 1968 Democratic National Convention has been denied by a federal appeals court.

Still pending is their appeal on grounds other than the electronic surveillance cited in the rejected motion.

Defense attorneys had argued in their motion that illegal electronic surveillance of telephone conversations was used to obtain the convictions.

The 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals ruled Thursday that surveillance logs submitted to it contain no evidence of eavesdropping on the defendants, their attorneys or their staff.

The defendants convicted in a five-month U.S. District Court trial are David T. Dellinger, Rennie C. "Rennie" Davis, Abbott "Abbie" Hoffman, Jerry C. Rubin and Thomas Hayden.

Glowing Lava Threatens Naulu Forest

VOLCANO, Hawaii (AP) — A massive flow of glowing lava crossed the Chain of Craters road in Hawaii's Volcanoes National Park Thursday, threatening a large brush fire that threatened the valuable Naulu forest.

Park officials were unsuccessful in their latest attempt to curb the creeping flow of molten rock with dirt dikes pushed up by bulldozers. This strategy worked successfully earlier in the week with a flow in the same area.

Firefighters battled the blaze through the night in hopes of preventing it from reaching the forest reserve, which contains several varieties of native trees found nowhere else in the world, chief park ranger Arthur Huitt said.

"The flow is one of several pouring out from the Aloi-Alao craters area," Huitt said.

Congressmen Split on Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arkansas' congressmen were split Thursday as the House of Representatives voted 289-114 to override President Nixon's veto of a $4.4 billion appropriation bill for the Office of Education.

Rep. Bill Alexander, D-Ark., voted in favor of the override and Rep. John Paul Hammer-schmidt, R-Ark., and Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., voted against the measure.

Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., was not present for the vote because of an illness in his family, but he said he would have voted to override the veto.

Crittenden Shortage Is $32,392

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP) — A preliminary audit report on the Crittenden County General Fund shows that there may have been a $32,392.28 shortage rather than the earlier report of $26,255.17.

The report was filed here Thursday by Clarence E. Johnson, a certified public accountant with the Blytheville firm of Johnson and Stiles, which was employed by the county to make an audit in connection with an alleged mishandling of county funds by former Sheriff Marion Thomas.

Thomas, who was suspended as sheriff June 29, is charged with embezzlement of public funds. He is free on $15,000 bail. He was charged June 28 in connection with an alleged shortage reported by state auditors of $26,255.17 in the Crittenden County General Fund. Thomas said he has since repaid the money.

In his initial report, Johnson requested the prosecutor to petition the court having jurisdiction to permit his firm to inspect and photo-copy personal business records of Thomas for the period of Jan. 1, 1965 through June 30, 1970.

"Permission to inspect and photo-copy these records is needed because, as our reports indicate, county funds have apparently been used to pay personal notes and guaranteed notes, and county funds have been deposited into various personal accounts," Johnson said.

Johnson's report alleged that an additional $7,359.18 in county money, which included four checks made payable to Thomas' cousin, Conway County Sheriff Marlin Hawkins, were used personally by Thomas for a period of time without paying any interest.

The checks to Hawkins were for $214 on Aug. 19, 1967, $221.75 on May 13, 1968, $300.50 on Sept. 9, 1969, and $302.60 on March 9, 1970.

Thomas said he would not comment on the report until he has a chance to examine it.

Purcell Thinks He's Leading the Field

MALVERN, Ark. (AP) — Joe Purcell, a Democratic gubernatorial candidate, said here Thursday night that he was "leading the field" in the race for governor and was gaining more every day.

Purcell spoke to about 350 persons who had gathered on the Hot Spring County Courthouse lawn.

Purcell promised, if elected, to be a "working governor — one who will be in the governor's office when you need me."

He pointed out that he has 16 years of political experience on the city, county and state levels.

Earlier Thursday at a reception in Arkadelphia, Purcell accused the other candidates of adopting his platform "because they know it is a good one."

Purcell said he could bring unity to the Democratic party and lead the Democratic party to a victory in the November general election.

Seven Killed in Arkansas Collision

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP) — Seven persons were killed Friday in a fiery two-car crash on Interstate 40 at the Wheatley interchange near here.

State Police identified the victims as E. E. Whitehurst, 47, and his wife, Nell, 44, of Brinkley. The other five victims were from New Albany, Miss.

They were identified as John Dix, about 45, his wife Imogene, 44, their son, Ronnie Dix, 24, his wife Patsy, 23, and the younger couple's son Jeff, 4.

State Police said the accident occurred when the Whitehurst car drove onto Interstate 40 traveling east in the westbound lane of traffic and hit the Mississippi car head-on. Both cars exploded and burned on impact.

All seven persons were killed instantly or died in the fire, police said. Fire units from Brinkley and Wheatley were called to the scene to extinguish the blaze.

State Police Trooper Charles Schaefer said Whitehurst, a former mayor of Brinkley, had been arrested about a year ago for driving the wrong way on the interstate. He was fined a total of $18.

Southern State Decision Is Reversed

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals here has reversed a lower court decision denying a request for a permanent injunction against Southern State College in Magnolia, Ark.

The appeal was on a decision May 28, 1969, by U.S. District Judge Oren Harris. The appeals court remanded the case to Harris for "action consistent with this opinion."

Dr. Imon E. Bruce, SSC president, revoke the charter of Students United for Rights and Equality (SURE) on March 24, 1969 because the group failed to rescind an invitation extended to two representatives of the Southern Student Organizing Committee.

The two were Joe and Barbara Neal, who were described as civil rights and antiwar advocates.

Bruce asked SURE to withdraw the invitation because he feared there would be violence as a result of their speaking. When the organization refused, the group's charter was revoked. Also, two professors allegedly connected with SURE, Donald Baldrige and Kenton Stellwagen, were not reappointed to their jobs. They claimed their contracts were not renewed because of their activities with SURE.

"We hold that SURE's suspension and probation must be removed," the appeals court said. "We also hold that any existing orders or directives prohibiting students or faculty who participated in alleged incidents from holding office in SURE or serving as an advisor to SURE must be rescinded."

Candidate's Plane Had Some Trouble

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — John Pagan, research assistant in Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell's campaign for governor, said Thursday that a twin-engine plane Purcell was riding in Wednesday night experienced an engine malfunction near Pine Bluff.

Pagan said the left engine failed and the magnetic compass malfunctioned.

He said the pilot did not know where the plane was at one point and a dense fog made landing difficult at Pine Bluff.

Earlier, the plane had experienced difficulty at Conway when the right engine failed to start.
